

Keith Bagg I.T. Search is a reputable Technology Resourcing company built on The Bagg Group's rich 40 year history of servicing clients within the Greater Toronto Area and beyond for over 15 years. Our area of expertise includes Resourcing for Contract, Project and Full Time Technology roles.

Having experienced tremendous growth over the last 3 years, Keith Bagg I.T. Search has had the pleasure of attracting Technology Recruitment Professionals to our organization that are second to none in the industry.

Three such people have recently joined Keith Bagg I.T. Search during the month of May!

Raman Aneja

Raman Aneja is a highly dedicated and professional Senior Technical Recruiter and brings 5 years of experience as a Technical Recruiter supporting a variety of clients in a wide range of IT roles. Raman's hands on expertise in IT Infrastructure support has helped bring a unique perspective to his recruitment process. Through his many years of experience as an IT professional Raman was able to obtain the skills and understanding that make him respected as a peer to those he recruits, and gives him insider clarity when analyzing resourcing specifications whether they be Contract or Full Time.

Simone Goldberg

Simone Goldberg has successfully worked within the Recruitment industry, particularly focused on IT Full Time and Contract requirements for over 18 years. Her essential priority has always been to partner with the candidate, the client and ultimately simplify the process by which a candidate is hired. Simone's expertise lies with understanding the difficulties and stress experienced by the candidates and the clients and is mindful and considerate to all involved. She possesses a clear vision, to source, screen and most importantly work collaboratively and productively and build on her long standing relationships within the industry.

Simon Ma

The Bagg Group has a long tradition in supporting financially and practically to the careers of Students. Simon Ma joined Keith Bagg I.T. Search as a Co-op Student. Simon recently graduated with a Bachelor of Applied Business in both Human Resources and Technology. Prior to going back for additional post -secondary education, Simon had worked as a Technology Recruiter, as well as a Database Analyst, giving him a solid foundation to join our growing team.

Many of our Co-op Students have joined us Full Time after completing their obligations or have moved on to rewarding careers.

Please join me in welcoming Raman, Simone and Simon to our growing team!
